USDA Zone 3 - 10

Marginal/bog plant

Care Tips

Pickerelweed thrives as long as it has direct sun and water, which usually isn't an issue for most backyard pond settings. It is a fast grower and will require regular trimming to prevent it from choking out other plants in your pond. Remove and properly discard any clippings away from the water. Pickerelweed is a hardy plant and will typically overwinter in your outdoor pond if the plant's crown is underwater and doesn't freeze over.
