Care Tips

Prune the leaves and flowers of your yellow flag as soon as they turn brown. As winter sets in, plants in a bog area are best left alone once you have trimmed off the dead foliage, up to 1-2" above the top of the water. If on plant-shelves or planting containers, trim them to 1-2" before lowering them into deeper water. Raise them back up in Spring before any plant growth occurs. Zones 6 and warmer, leave your plants as is.
